3 p.m.

4 MS. MEREDITH PORTER: Okay. Good afternoon, 5 Commissioner Eyolfson. I'm here with Dionne Ward-Young and 6 her husband, Alan (phonetic) Young, and we are going to be 7 hearing today about Dionne's mother, Ann Lucas.

8 Before we get started, though, I did want to 9 do two things. I wanted to introduce myself. I'm Meredith
10 Porter. I'm Commission counsel with the National Inquiry.
11 And I also wanted to ask the members of the audience to 12 just double-check their cellphones prior to getting started 13 to make sure that they're either on vibrate or silent prior 14 to the witness proceeding with her evidence. So thank you 15 very much, and I'll now pass the mic and ask them to 16 introduce themselves.

17 MS. DIONNE WARD-YOUNG: Hi. I'm Dionne
18 Ward-Young, here today to testify on behalf of my mother 19 who is no longer with us, cannot speak for herself.

20 MR. ALAN YOUNG: Hi. I'm Alan Young, 21 husband of Dionne.

22 MS. MEREDITH PORTER: Thank you. And just 23 before we get started, I will ask from the Registrar to 24 come and promise-in the witness.

25 MR. REGISTRAR: Okay. Hi, Dionne.

1 DIONNE WARD-YOUNG, Affirmed:

2 MS. MEREDITH PORTER: Thank you. And so I
3 will now ask Dionne to proceed with what she's come here to 4 talk about today.

5 MS. DIONNE WARD-YOUNG: Good afternoon,
6 everyone. In opening, I just want to give you a brief
7 background. I don't really feel a need to go into any 8 major detail. The information is out there on-line, but 9 just want to focus on the main point of the development of 10 the Inquiry.

11 My mother, Ann Marie Lucas, was murdered by 12 her estranged boyfriend on September 21st, 2003. Eight 13 blows to the head with a metal bar ended the life of a 14 wonderful mother, daughter, grandmother and friend. It 15 ended the esteemed career of a nursing assistant, personal 16 care worker of 37 years, and it took a dedicated worker
17 from a nursing home where she loved her job and was much 18 loved by her patients and her work family.

19 Today I really want to focus on the Parole
20 Board. There's a few things, but firstly the Parole Board.
21 Personally I feel there's a major breakdown in the Parole 22 Board decision-making tools and communication. When an 23 inmate has been charged with the heinous crime of murder, 24 the sentencing set by the judge in the Provincial Court
25 should be honoured. Also the parole file should include

1 pictures, which sometimes it does and, it's my 2 understanding, sometimes it doesn't. These pictures and 3 the summary should be taken more seriously. I feel the 4 Parole Board members are looking solely at the behaviours
5 of the inmate once incarcerated only. Institution
6 behaviour can be extremely deceiving. Anyone can behave 7 for short periods of time and conduct themselves in good 8 manner and can behave appropriately when the audience has 9 the ability to set them free. The psychiatric assessment
10 can also be falsely scored in a closed environment. Words 11 can fool even the most educated people. Tools such as the 12 Hare Psychopathy Checklist, HCR-20 assessing risk for 13 violence, SARA forms, SIR scale, MCMI, they're all 14 cookie-cutter assessment forms that have a broad spectrum 15 that can misinform the user.

16 After only 12 years of committing 17 premeditated murder, this inmate has hoodwinked the entire 18 parole system into allowing 48 ETAs for a one-year period, 19 also a two-day pass to travel from Nova Scotia to 20 Newfoundland for compassionate leave.

21 The Board has also sent me a report on 22 December 12th, 2015, outlining the decision process. I
23 wrote a victim statement to the Board, and this is how much 24 acknowledgement it received from my words, and I quote:

25 Victim impact statements describe the ongoing and

1 negative effects that your criminal offending has had 2 upon them.

3 That's it, no further discussion.

4 We need broader minds and sharper tools when 5 assessing these inmates. When a life is maliciously taken 6 from the world, a few church sessions, AA meetings and 7 community service does not change a hardened criminal. The 8 inmate was 64 at the time he committed murder and has 9 already spent 36 approximately of those years in and out of 10 incarceration before that. This is a career criminal.
11 Career criminals are being released and are not capable of 12 life changes at this point. Therefore, they recommit and 13 the crimes escalate each time, and obviously this time it 14 did. This person will certainly, I feel in my opinion, 15 re-offend to some degree, and it's on the Parole Board when 16 that happens.

17 In regard to her sentencing, my mother's 18 murderer was initially charged with first-degree murder.
19 This was reduced to second degree. As it was explained to 20 me by the RCMP corporal and Crown attorney, it was safer to 21 go with a guilty plea to second than a non-guilty guilty
22 plea to first. It also avoided a full-blown trial. There 23 was a week-long court process which neatly ended with him
24 walking out with his sunglasses on at a second-degree life
25 sentence, and I -- I use the life sentence term loosely.

1 Because -- because of the parole decisions, life sentences
2 are never completed. They never finish a life sentence.
3 And he is eligible for parole in 18 years. It's my 4 understanding that he's going to be out for parole in 5 September, and this is only after 15 years.

6 There should be no parole, no getting out.
7 You put a human life in the ground. Therefore, you should 8 be incarcerated for life. A life sentence for a life, very 9 simple.

10 My mother did have a restraining order
11 against him at the time. It's my opinion that restraining 12 orders do not work. There needs to be more stringent rules 13 and regulations regarding these. Written guidelines on 14 paper is not enough. Paper does not save lives. Anyone 15 caught disobeying an order should be incarcerated. This 16 will increase the mindset, in my opinion, that this is not 17 an acceptable behaviour. There are very little 18 repercussions these days to these -- these restraining 19 orders.

20 Right now regarding education and especially 21 once you're incarcerated, they have benefits of schooling.
22 Where am I? I know he has -- this inmate has had the same 23 schooling that I myself am paying thousands of dollars for.
24 I just don't understand why these programs, these monies
25 are being spent when an inmate is incarcerated like right

1 now being 70-plus years old. Where are you going with an 2 office degree? It doesn't make any sense to me. Why are 3 these monies being spent and not being better spent 4 on -- like there's tonnes of other places that these monies
5 can be spent. All these programs that are being offered
6 inside -- I know the point is to rehabilitate inmates so 7 they don't come out and re-offend. It's not -- in my 8 opinion that's not happening.

9 And for our younger generations, schools are 10 not focusing enough on mental health, culture and wellness 11 classes. Full-page arithmetic is not getting anyone any 12 further in life if they are sitting in a classroom all day
13 focused on how difficult it is, getting anxious, building 14 animosity and hate. Life skills need to be taught to our 15 youth so they grow up to be well-rounded well-structured 16 adults. Repercussions for decisions and actions and social 17 skills and healthy minds are topics that need to be 18 discussed and taught in schools.

19 We cannot change the past. We must focus on 20 the present and the future. Let's start with our youth in 21 ways of education, counselling, personal development, 22 social and financial aid.

23 I know there are a lot of families who had 24 some issues with police response and the judicial system.
25 We were fortunate we did not have that. In my mother's 1 case, we didn't have any trouble with response time or the 2 handling of the case. The RNC and RCMP were -- were great, 3 but families who do have trouble obtaining information,

4 updates, not being taken seriously and sometimes 5 unfortunately outright ignored, this is something that I 6 feel also needs to be addressed. Please listen to these 7 families closely. Families need more information on these 8 limited case files.

9 And back to the inmate benefits again, there 10 have been communications outlining education, 11 communications to me 'cause I am on the victim list. These 12 things are all for free. You know, like I said, someone 13 like myself, you know, we have to struggle and make ends 14 meet and pay for these education costs. We have youth.
15 You know, tuition costs are coming up, but these -- these 16 courses are being offered to inmates where those monies 17 could be restructured and reduce education costs for the 18 youth today.

19 I know in May of 2015, the inmate that 20 murdered my mother was approved 48 full-day passes and each 21 year after. It -- there's 48 full-day passes, like I said
22 earlier, to attend AA and church-related activities up to a 23 duration of eight hours a day including travel to various 24 locations, and an escort is also paid and approved to 25 attend, and I think it's my understanding that lately there

1 are some unescorted day passes that have been happening.

2 He's also been moved to a new facility.

3 It's still on the Dorchester grounds. It's -- it was 4 called Westmorland facility. It's a residential style of 5 living I think is what the paperwork told me it was called.
6 Since I think there's been some controversy and they've 7 changed the name back to Dorchester min., so minimum 8 security, so he was only ever in a medium, and I feel for 9 crime of that magnitude, it should be maximum security 10 only. There should be no -- don't take it as lightly. And 11 the elderly in our communities do not have accommodations
12 as high a standard and as good a care as this Westmorland 13 facility, in my understanding, has.

14 My darling mother, who worked her entire 15 life trying to make each day a delight for those under her 16 and most often did, she wished she could but could never 17 come up with the means to travel and see the world, while 18 on December 16th to the 18th of 2015, this inmate was 19 approved a 48-hour ETA for compassionate purposes to travel 20 from Dorchester, Nova Scotia, to Flat Bay, Newfoundland.

21 I seriously cannot believe that our 22 government will actually pay for a convict to travel along 23 with his escort province to province. Haven't we paid 24 enough, not to mention the nonmonetary price of her family 25 and friends losing her, the tax-paying dollars for his

1 accommodations, education, medical, food, shelter. No one
2 offered to pay for her funeral, but I bet you'll pay for 3 his.

4 Equal rights. It should not matter what 5 your ethnic background or social status. All Canadians
6 should be treated equal. Minority groups such as ourselves 7 are feeling like they are not being taken seriously when 8 reporting crimes and following up on convictions. In the 9 past, aboriginal citizens were schooled and treated 10 differently. This made the aboriginal natives hard, and 11 crime escalated. This seems like an ongoing issue.
12 Stereotypic behaviours are still rampant in our provinces 13 and that contain reserves. Financing, health care, medical 14 care, mental health and addictions, counselling and aid are 15 not as available on reserves as throughout the remainder of 16 the provinces. Educate and counsel our youth through our 17 communities so we're not raising criminals, substance 18 abusers, etc.

19 I really feel mental health is a big issue.
20 Mental health is an extremely misunderstood and complex 21 topic. It is on the rise, and education and aid is at an 22 utmost high in terms of need. Lack of resources, 23 counselling and aid is contributing to the uprising. Stress 24 due to the impact on survivors of murder victims, missing
25 family members and victims of abuse can extend beyond

1 primary survivors. Siblings, parents, grandparents,
2 cousins, step relations and friends can also be greatly
3 affected by the tragedies. It would be greatly beneficial 4 if there were more support groups, healing seminars and 5 meetings.

6 I think that's pretty much it. Unless you
7 needed to prompt me on anything else, I --

8 MS. MEREDITH PORTER: I do, yeah.

9 MS. DIONNE WARD-YOUNG: You do want to 10 prompt me?

11 MS. MEREDITH PORTER: So thank you very 12 much, and that was very informative, and my understanding 13 is is that those issues that you've spoken to all weave 14 throughout the circumstances preceding your mother's murder
15 and afterwards, and so some of the questions that I have I 16 think will probably help make some of those links as to why 17 you are obviously very so passionate about all of those 18 issues.

19 You mentioned that you were on a victims
20 list. Can you give a little bit more detail about what 21 that entails and some of your concerns around the way that 22 victims are treated who are on that list or who aren't on 23 that list?

24 MS. DIONNE WARD-YOUNG: Yes. Yes. Like she 25 said, I am on a victim list. There are some things I don't

1 feel that I need to know. I understand that he has some 2 confidentiality issues as well. Like you know, he has some 3 confidentiality rights, whether I might like that or not,
4 but being on the list, I'm informed of everything. I'm 5 informed if he goes on a day pass, the date, the vicinity 6 but not the confidential information, but I've also had 7 letters where there -- it's listed out what education he 8 has done. I mentioned that earlier. I wish there was a 9 way that we could filter exactly what information we're 10 privy to because I did call victim services at one point
11 and I asked them can you send less letters, spend less 12 money? I don't need to know all that stuff. You know, 13 just send me the important details like if he's released,
14 if he's on an ETA to Newfoundland or if he passes away.
15 Those are the only three things I want to know. I really 16 don't care if he has education or if he's going out on ETA, 17 if he's going to church or AA or any of that stuff. That 18 only aggravates me to get letters weekly. Like every week 19 there's letters coming to me, so that's a lot of time and 20 manpower, and -- and, you know, the cost of a letter, you
21 know, it's probably not much, but I would -- I wish that it
22 could be filtered, and when I did call victim services, 23 they said, No, you're on the list or you're off the list, 24 there's no way to just filter it. So I would like to see 25 it filtered for families 'cause, you know, getting multiple

1 letters is just salt in the wound type thing. Give us the 2 important pertinent information. That's all.

3 MS. MEREDITH PORTER: Okay. Thank you. And 4 just to get -- if it's all right to ask some of the 5 details, I guess, to -- to give a bit more context to what 6 exactly the circumstances again prior to your mother's 7 death and the actual night that she was killed. You had 8 mentioned that this individual who killed your mother had a 9 history of violence, that this wasn't the first time that 10 he had assaulted, well, your mother or -- and I was 11 wondering if you could just speak a little bit about, you 12 know, their -- their relationship prior to the time when 13 she was killed.

14 MS. DIONNE WARD-YOUNG: Well, to my 15 knowledge, they were together for seven years, and then 16 they were separated for about -- roughly a year. I don't 17 really remember the exact dates or details, but it wasn't 18 always a healthy relationship. It was a very controlling 19 relationship. She was always a very happy, outgoing 20 person, but during those seven years, I saw a decline in 21 her mental health. She was withdrawn, and she -- she 22 didn't -- just didn't act herself. She -- she kind of 23 didn't go places she probably would have liked to have 24 gone. It was more -- it wasn't -- she didn't directly say 25 she needed permission or anything, but I -- I could get

1 that vibe because I knew her more -- I knew her better than 2 anybody did, so, yeah, there was -- there was certain 3 things that, you know, I could pick up on.

4 So during that seven years, I did see a 5 decline in her -- her well-being, her happiness. When she 6 was -- when he -- when they were split up and he moved 7 away, it was after an assault on her where he tried to 8 strangle her in her apartment, and she did get away, and he 9 was charged, and there was an assault on another lady at 10 the same time. I'm not positive of the details of that, 11 but I know it was a neighbour of mine, and she had been 12 assaulted and needed some corrective surgery on her face.
13 In total for those two crimes, he served approximately 14 seven months.

15 So they were apart. She -- I saw a major
16 uprising in her happiness and her well-being, and then I
17 don't know what surrounded the circumstances of them
18 becoming -- talking again. I don't know; manipulation, I
19 can -- I can assume, but they did to my understanding start 20 seeing each other again, not living together or nothing 21 open. It was a hidden thing, and -- and then she did try 22 to end it with him again, and the -- the murder was the 23 result.

24 MS. MEREDITH PORTER: Okay. Thank you. And 25 you did mention that there had been a restraining order at

1 one point put into place, but there -- you didn't feel 2 there was very much protective value to it. Can you give 3 any more details about any efforts either on behalf
4 of -- of yourself as family or your mother or the RCMP 5 to -- to keep her safe or any -- any efforts made prior to 6 the night that she was killed?

7 MS. DIONNE WARD-YOUNG: While that 8 restraining order was in place, I know there were a couple 9 of incidences where she was in a certain area. I know the 10 restriction was for him not to be anywhere that -- where 11 she was present, that he should be the one to leave 12 or -- yeah, that he would be, but there was a few 13 incidences that she did report to the RCMP where he didn't 14 leave, and I know she did keep a couple of notes on those 15 things that we found after she was gone, found an envelope 16 with a few write-ups about those things, and we did submit 17 it. It didn't make any -- any impact then, of course, but 18 like there was a couple of incidences where she went for a 19 walk and he drove his car back and forth, and she was in a 20 restaurant, and he didn't leave so she felt she had to 21 leave, but -- so she reported it, but she was pretty much 22 told, well, we can't stop him from driving up and down a 23 road. You know, we can write it down. I don't know if 24 they even spoke to him about it or mentioned it to parole, 25 but -- 'cause she did -- it was the RCMP she contacted, and

1 they said, You know, we can't stop him from going places, 2 living life or whatever, but, yeah, I don't feel that 3 they're effective.

4 I wish I had a solution to make them more
5 effective. I know they've been looking at them lately, 6 looking more stringent at restraining orders, but I don't 7 know what the details -- you know, what that would entail,
8 but I know that for her, the few times she did report it, 9 there was -- they just told her there was nothing really 10 they could do.

11 MS. MEREDITH PORTER: Okay. Thank you. And 12 you had also mentioned that it's your belief that 13 his -- his release from custody is -- is forthcoming, is 14 imminent. How does that for you -- in your day-to-day how 15 does it make you feel? You've spoken a little bit about 16 that, and have you -- if he's released back into a 17 community, your community or nearby, does that -- how does 18 that impact you? Have you taken any measures?

19 MS. DIONNE WARD-YOUNG: Well, we do have an 20 enhanced security system installed in our home. I didn't 21 receive any direct threats at this point, but I do feel 22 that it could -- it could potentially be something that 23 could happen. I don't feel that inmates of crime of that 24 magnitude should be allowed back in the same community with 25 the family members and, you know, in the same place that

1 they -- you know, that they murdered someone. Like how can 2 you go back there? I feel he -- he would be brazen enough 3 to -- to want to come back to that area 'cause he does have 4 some family there as well. I don't know what the family
5 connections are, the dynamic is, but I just really strongly 6 feel that he should not be released into the same 7 community.

8 MR. ALAN YOUNG: Be released at all.

9 MS. DIONNE WARD-YOUNG: There's -- he 10 shouldn't be released at all, correct, not at all because, 11 you know, a life for a life type thing and I mean a life
12 sentence. I mean I'm -- I don't know how I feel on capital 13 punishment and it's not even an issue here, but a life
14 sentence at least for a life, and if they do get released 15 on this -- on parole, on the faint hope clause, I feel they 16 should be -- they should be away from the family, and it's 17 my understanding that if I want to have a restraining order
18 in place, it's on me to get it. It's not a blanket 19 statement when he's released that he has to stay away from 20 all the family. It's my understanding that each family 21 member has to apply.

22 MS. MEREDITH PORTER: Okay. Thank you very 23 much. Commissioner Eyolfson, do you have any comments or 24 questions for the witness?

25 COMMISSIONER BRIAN EYOLFSON: I don't have

1 any specific questions. I just wonder if you have any 2 recommendations in addition to the ones you've made that 3 you'd like to bring forward for the Inquiry as we're 4 carrying out our mandate of looking at, you know, ways 5 to -- what are the underlying factors that make women and 6 girls vulnerable to violence and what are things that can 7 increase safety and if you have anything related to that or 8 other things you would like to recommend that you want to 9 share.

10 MS. DIONNE WARD-YOUNG: I don't think I have 11 anything additional beyond what I did say. Maybe mental 12 health programs will create stronger women and even 13 stronger men that are grown up and could potentially do 14 these crimes. The Parole Board needs to be stronger, the 15 sentences need to be adhered to and just protection against 16 the families when these inmates are released.

17 COMMISSIONER BRIAN EYOLFSON: Thank you.

18 MS. DIONNE WARD-YOUNG: Okay.

19 COMMISSIONER BRIAN EYOLFSON: So if 20 there -- if there aren't any other questions or anything 21 else, we can adjourn, but before we do, I just want to 22 thank you very much for coming and sharing your -- your 23 story with us and your -- your thoughts and 24 recommendations, and we have a few small gifts for you on 25 behalf of the Inquiry for coming and sharing. In addition,

1 we have a couple of gifts as well from Newfoundland
2 Aboriginal Women's Network and from Pauktuutit that they've 3 provided to -- for us to share with people that are coming
4 and sharing with us, so I just want to give those to you 5 before you leave, okay? Thank you very much.

6 MS. MEREDITH PORTER: And with that, we're 7 adjourned, and I believe we're going to reconvene at 5:00 8 back in the hearing room. Thank you.
