

Media Accreditation and Important Information

Part II and III: Knowledge Keeper, Expert and Institutional Hearing

Iqaluit, NU, September 10-13, 2018

LOCATION: The Frobisher Inn
Astro Hill Complex, Iqaluit, NU, XoA oHo

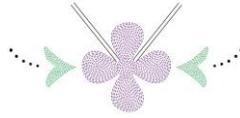

The National Inquiry into Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women and Girls will have a Knowledge Keeper, Expert and Institutional Hearing in Iqaluit, Nunavut beginning on Monday, September 10 and concluding on Thursday, September 13, 2018. The hearings will start at 9:00 am EDT and are expected to finish at 5:00 pm EDT each day.

All media attending the Institutional Hearing must have an accreditation card to enter the hearing room and a colour coded lanyard will be provided to you and must be visible at all times. It does not provide access to private hearing rooms, or to rooms where the health team or other staff are located.

WHO IS ENTITLED TO PRESS ACCREDITATION? Accreditation is granted only to journalists (critics, columnists, reporters, photographers, documentary filmmakers) who cover the issue of missing and murdered Indigenous women and girls or survivors of violence. Journalists must represent a recognized media outlet. YouTubers, bloggers or those involved with the blogosphere will not be granted accreditation. To obtain your media accreditation, please fill out the form below.

RESTRICTIONS: Accreditation does not authorize media to take photographs or images using devices such as cameras, smartphones or hand-held cameras inside the hearing room(s). Only the official National Inquiry video cameras, the media pool camera and an on-line media camera will be permitted to record inside.

There may be an opportunity to take photos of the Commissioners at the beginning of the hearing. Media will be seated in a specific area within the hearing room. A buffer zone around certain areas of the location will be reserved for families and people involved in the Inquiry. A map will be provided and we would ask that those areas be respected.
