Introduction (3 minutes)

Overview

Frontline police officers conduct missing person investigations on a daily basis. It is important that these types of calls are handled in a proper and timely fashion. Police officers must ensure all policies are followed, and that constant and professional communication occurs when dealing with complainants and their families.

Prior to this session, you have completed the online Missing Persons Investigations course. In Module 13, you will apply the knowledge and skills you have acquired thus far to a call for assistance involving a missing person. You will acquire additional knowledge and skills to enhance your ability to conduct a variety of missing person investigations.

Session 1 enables you to apply CAPra and a risk assessment to an online missing person scenario. The following CAPra objectives apply.

ES 1.1 CAPra Objectives

At the end of this session, you will be able to:

› define who the client(s) is(are);
› define, where appropriate, with the client what the issues are, what the problem is; and
› acquire the skills, knowledge and information required to address the problem through research or consultation with the client and/or community resources (partnerships)

ES 1.2 Objectives

At the end of this session, you will be able to:

› respond to a call of a missing person by:
  › applying a risk assessment at the information gathering, en route, and arrival stages.
This module investigation will be a simulated online investigation located on Agora, Module 13. Session 5 will temporarily be delivered in a regular classroom using scripts. In the future, it will move online. Cadets will start the investigation by applying CAPra and risk assessment to a scenario. They will be expected to take appropriate notes. Cadets will complete form 6473 for this missing person investigation. This online portion of the investigation will be conducted individually. Cadets will not be completing a PROS file for this module. Have the cadets use the Checklist for Missing Persons Investigations (Appendix 1.2) during this module to assist with their investigation. Scenario Summary (Appendix 1.1) (Facilitator) has been created for your convenience.

BEST PRACTICES CHECKLIST FOR MISSING PERSONS INVESTIGATIONS
Appendix 1.2

As you know, risk assessment is a continuous exercise and, as the investigation progresses, you should constantly re-evaluate the situation to gauge if the level of risk has changed. Any decision to reduce the level of risk should be supported by your supervisor and – as with any decision - well documented.

INITIAL RESPONSE

□ Consider a Missing Person investigation as top priority right from the onset!
□ Complete form 6473 (Missing Persons Intake and Risk Assessment)
□ Meet with your supervisor to discuss 6473, complete Risk Assessment, and establish a priority and directions for the investigation
□ Open a file on the RMS (PROS, PRIME, VERSADEX etc) using the appropriate scoring
□ Enter Missing Person on CPIC

JURISDICTION

□ Determine where the person was last seen
□ If outside your jurisdiction, modify the CPIC entry and advise the Police Agency involved
□ Contact NCMPUR if necessary
□ Provide contact numbers and new file number (if applicable) to the complainant
□ Update your RMS accordingly

PRIORITIZATION

□ Missing Persons cases are always a top priority. Assume foul play is involved until proven otherwise
□ Ensure appropriate resources are immediately assigned
□ Is the Missing Person a member of a vulnerable population?
□ Consider involving supporting resources and escalating the file if foul play is suspected

COMMUNICATION

□ Keep your supervisor updated on status
□ Liaise with other assisting units such as Police Dog Services, Air Services etc
□ Develop a communication schedule with the family*/*reporting party

* What to provide to the family?
□ Your name and contact information
□ The file number of the investigation
□ An overview of the investigative process, including their role
□ The name and contact information of support services available to them (e.g. Victim Services and Aboriginal Liaison Officer)
□ Information/guidance to assist them in dealing with the media if approached

GATHERING INFORMATION

□ Search site (e.g. last seen location and residence) for evidence
□ Dental Records
□ DNA samples
□ Diary/journal/online blog information
□ Use available database queries
□ Conduct interviews and obtain statements from complainant, witnesses, neighbours etc.
□ Check social media, banking and cellular phone activity.

ANALYSIS (Continuous Risk Assessment)

□ Use NCMPUR’s analysis tools/reports
□ Review evidence gathered to determine
□ accuracy of info gathered
□ possible destination of missing person if they left willingly
□ possible reasons why the missing person is missing

Overview

In session 1 you were dispatched to a call of a missing person. During the acquiring and analysing stage of CAPra you determined that the missing person is Indigenous.

Session 2 provides you with the opportunity to experience the Kairos Blanket Exercise focussing on the historic and contemporary relationship between Indigenous and non-Indigenous people in Canada.

ES 2.1 Objective

At the end of this session, you will be able to:

- explain the historic and contemporary relationship between Indigenous and non-Indigenous peoples in Canada.

Kairos Blanket Exercise (140 minutes)

NTF

Run the blanket exercise. Once it’s over set up the Cultural room with the available chairs in a circle formation for a debriefing. The chairs are located in the supply room in the hallway. Please ensure that the chairs are returned to the supply room after the session. If any of the furniture is moved in the Cultural room it will need to be placed back in its original location.

Method

Have the assigned cadet introduce the guest Elder and present a tobacco offering. The Elder and Kairos trained facilitators will guide the cadets through an experiential exercise.

Have the assigned cadet thank the Elder at the conclusion of the presentation.
Summary (2 minutes)

In this session, you experienced the Kairos Blanket Exercise with a local Elder from an indigenous community. When policing our culturally diverse communities in Canada it is important to work with our clients in a respectful manner consistent with the RCMP core values.

In the next session, you will learn about the significance of Truth and Reconciliation. You will review operational policy on missing person investigations and discuss the Inquiry into Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women and Girls.

Overview

In Session 2, you experienced the Kairos Blanket Exercise with a local Elder. You learned about the historical and present day relationship between Indigenous and non-Indigenous Canadians.

During the Blanket Exercise you learned about the Indian Residential School System and how it affected the Indigenous people of Canada. In the first part of this session, you will learn how Truth and Reconciliation is associated to the Indian Residential School System.

ES 3.1 Objectives

At the end of this session, you will be able to:

- explain the importance of Truth and Reconciliation;
- understand the RCMP’s role in the Indian Residential School System;
- review the Truth and Reconciliation Commission’s justice related calls to action;
- list actions that you can take towards reconciliation.

Truth and Reconciliation (45 minutes)

ITC

The Kairos Blanket Exercise allowed you to learn about the Indian Residential School system. It is important to understand Truth and Reconciliation and what this means to all Indigenous and Non-Indigenous Canadians. This understanding of the truth will allow you to determine your role in reconciliation as a police officer and as a Canadian citizen.
ES 3.2  For over 150 years, 150,000 children attended residential schools operated in Canada. Many never returned to their families. Often underfunded and overcrowded, these schools were used as a tool of assimilation by the Canadian state and churches.

Thousands of students were physically and sexually abused, and suffered from loneliness and a longing to be home with their families which has caused irreparable damage.

Method  Show ES 3.3. Inform the cadets that this is a video of several survivors of the residential school system speaking about their experience. This video is 1:40 minutes.

ES 3.3  Indian Residential School

Method  Ask the following QTC and obtain answers from the cadets, then show ES. 3.4, which is the anticipated response.

QTC  Can anybody tell me about the Indian Residential Schools Settlement Agreement?

ES 3.4  The Indian Residential Schools Settlement Agreement

- largest class-action settlement in Canadian history
- began in 2007
- established the Truth and Reconciliation Commission (TRC) of Canada to facilitate reconciliation among former students, their families, their communities and all Canadians.

ES 3.5  Truth and Reconciliation Commission of Canada

- in 2009, began a multi-year process to listen to Survivors, communities and others affected by the Indian Residential School system;
- was part of a holistic and comprehensive response to the abuse inflicted on Indigenous peoples through the Indian Residential School system, and the harmful legacy of those institutions.

Method
Show ES 3.6. Inform the cadets that this video discusses the Indian Residential School settlement and the establishment of the Truth and Reconciliation commission. This video is 1:34 minutes.

ES 3.6 Indian Residential Schools Settlement Agreement

Method
Ask the following QTC and obtain answers from the cadets, then show ES. 3.7, which is the anticipated response.

QTC
What do you think is meant by truth?

ES 3.7 What is meant by truth?

- learning about what truly happened in the residential schools and informing all Canadians about it;
- reporting on the records documented and held by those who operated and funded the schools;
- obtaining testimony from:
  - officials of the institutions that operated the schools,
  - survivors, their families, communities who reported their experiences; and
  - anyone personally affected by the residential school experience and its subsequent impacts.

Method
Show ES 3.8. Inform the cadets that this video is the testimony from survivors for the Residential School System. It is important to understand that the school system was not limited to one generation, there are many inter-generational survivors. This video is 1:38 minutes.

ES 3.8 Survivors’ Experiences
It is important to understand the role the RCMP played in the Indian Residential School system. This understanding of the truth will allow the RCMP to move forward on the path of Reconciliation.

On March 2, 2014 former RCMP Commissioner Bob Paulson addressed the Truth and Reconciliation Commission. He reiterated the RCMP apology made in 2004 for the role the RCMP had in the Indian Residential School systems.

ES 3.10
Reconciliation

The concept of reconciliation means different things to different people, communities, institutions, and organizations.

The Truth and Reconciliation Commission defined “reconciliation” as an ongoing process of establishing and maintaining respectful relationships.

It is important to keep in mind that:

- reconciliation is both an ongoing process and a goal;
- establishing respectful relationships also requires the revitalization of Indigenous law and legal traditions;
- First Nations, Inuit, and Métis peoples value traditional approaches to resolving conflict, repairing harm, and restoring relationships.

One approach in resolving conflict that has been successful is Restorative Justice which is a low cost and effective alternative response used in dealing with unacceptable behaviour that has caused harm to others. It can be used to deal with criminal investigations and non-criminal incidents. Sentencing circles are an example of a Restorative Justice approach to resolving these conflicts.
Method

Show ES 3.11. Inform the cadets that this is a video about reconciliation. This video is 4:11 minutes.

ES.3.11

Reconciliation

Method

Have the cadets take out Truth and Reconciliation (Appendix 3.1) and read the ten principles of reconciliation. Circulate and answer any questions the cadets may have.

The Truth and Reconciliation Commission of Canada believed that in order for Canada to flourish, reconciliation between Indigenous and non-Indigenous Canada must be based on the ten principles listed in Appendix 3.1.

ITC

The principles of reconciliation are based on the framework of the United Nations Declaration on Rights of Indigenous Peoples. The TRC believed it provides the necessary principles, norms, and standards for reconciliation to flourish.

ES 3.12

United Nations Declaration on Rights of Indigenous Peoples

This declaration sets out:

- the individual and collective rights of Indigenous peoples
- their rights to culture, identity, language, employment, health, education and other issues
- the rights of Indigenous peoples to maintain and strengthen their own institutions, cultures and traditions
- to prohibit discrimination against Indigenous peoples
- to promote full and effective participation in all matters that concern Indigenous peoples and their right to remain distinct

ITC

In order to redress the legacy of the residential schools and advance the process of Canadian reconciliation, the Truth and Reconciliation Commission made 94 calls to action. Of the 94 calls to action, 18 related specifically to justice.
You will find the 18 justice specific calls to action in Appendix 3.1, these are to be reviewed on your own time.

Method
Show ES 3.13 and task the cadets. Clarify any questions the cadets may have.

ES. 3.13 Task

Step One
In your learning team, take up to 10 minutes to list actions you can take towards reconciliation.

Step Two
- Have a spokesperson from your learning team prepared to present your findings.

AR
- understand the history and legacy of the Indian Residential School System (IRS)
- understand the role the RCMP played in the IRS
- understand the Indigenous communities we will police
- recognize the contributions that Indigenous peoples have made and continue to make in Canada
- educate those who may not understand
- determining on a personal level what reconciliation means to yourself and take action

2017-12-06
Introduction (5 minutes)

Overview

During this portion of the session we will review operational policy on missing person investigations and apply it to our scenario. We will discuss the purpose of the Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women and Girls Inquiry.

ES 3.14 CAPRa objectives:

You will be able to:

- analyse the information obtained in consultation with clients and partners;
- generate alternative solutions in consultation with clients and/or partners;
- decide on a response in consultation with clients and partners; and
- implement the selected response with the assistance of clients and/or community resources (partnerships).

ES 3.15 Objectives

At the end of this session, you will be able to:

- apply Operational Manual 37.3 to a missing person investigation;
- list the consequences of poor file management.

Missing Persons Investigations (30 minutes)

QTC

In your module investigation, Katie has been reported missing by her parents. You have just received this call for service while on route to a previously scheduled interview with a witness on one of your active investigations. What should you do next?
AR
- Re-scheduled the interview
- Immediately attend the residence of Katie's parents and start your investigation.

QTC
What are the potential consequences of choosing to deal with the previously arranged appointment and delaying your response to this call?

AR
- Potential harm to Katie
- Loss of valuable time at the early stages of an investigation into the disappearance of a person.
- Parents could feel that their needs are not important to you and the organization.
- Parents complaining about your choice.

QTC
What previously acquired knowledge or skills do you need to complete this investigation?

AR
- Notetaking
- Report writing
- Communication
- Interviewing skills
- Using community partners to help

QTC
What new knowledge or skills do you need to address this situation?

AR
- knowing the National policy related to missing person's investigations.
- how to properly complete form 6473
- knowing your detachment area

NTF
The following QTC's are covering Operational Manual 37.3 (Missing Persons), policy on missing person investigations, which was reviewed during the online Missing Persons course. If the cadets struggle answering the questions below, bring up the policy as an aid.
QTC

What is considered high risk and high risk lifestyle for missing person investigations?

AR

› High Risk

› means that the missing person’s health or wellbeing may be in immediate danger due to:

› their own vulnerability,
› the weather or physical conditions where the missing person is believed to be › reasonable grounds to believe they may be the victim of a crime

ITC

Examples of persons considered high-risk include: children; the elderly; a person with a physical, mental, or sensory disability; a person with a medical condition, mental illness, or who is suicidal; sex trade workers; gang or drug-trade associates; court witnesses; victims of abduction; victims of domestic violence and elder abuse; victims of bullying; transient/homeless persons; runaways; and those involved in high-risk activities such as hitchhiking and drug or alcohol abuse.

AR

› High Risk Lifestyle

› means the engagement in or the association with others involved in dangerous activities and/or frequenting or residing in dangerous environments, either by personal choice or circumstance.

QTC

When should you notify your supervisor of a missing person investigation?

AR

› Regular course of duties;
› Immediately if the person is deemed high risk or in a high risk lifestyle.

QTC

If you receive an initial complaint and your detachment does not have jurisdiction, what must you do?

AR

› immediately communicate the missing person information, and any investigational steps taken, to the detachment or agency of jurisdiction, verbally by telephone, followed by electronic written correspondence;

- open a file and document the transfer of information;
- Inform the complainant if the investigation has been transferred to another jurisdiction and provide the contact information of the receiving jurisdiction.

ES 3.16 The following points highlight crucial steps when conducting missing person investigations:

- immediate action, communication, and the use of community partners
- adherence to policy
- proper documentation of files and notes
- review of all previous PROS files which may contain crucial information available to you as a result of previous police contact

ITC Your ability to thoroughly investigate every lead no matter its size or perceived importance could result in the discovery of key information you may not have typically gathered. Ask questions, do research, and document your efforts. Your job is not to judge, it's to gather facts, and find answers. Don't let your biases stop you from checking all leads.

QTC If your missing person is on PROS as a witness to an assault in your community, what information may you be able to gather from this previous file?

AR

- potential suspect who may harbour a grudge
- location where she has been found in the past
- potential associates/friends

QTC What may happen to an investigator if he/she is found to have mishandled a missing person investigation?

AR

- public complaint
- Code of Conduct investigation
Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women and Girls Inquiry (10 minutes)

ITC
In late 2013, the Commissioner of the RCMP initiated an RCMP-led study of reported incidents of missing and murdered Aboriginal women across all police jurisdictions in Canada. This study provides Canadian Police a solid foundation to use more targeted crime prevention, better community engagement and enhanced accountability for criminal investigations. It provides processes which assists operational planning from the detachment to national level.

ES. 3.17
The study revealed the following:

- Police-recorded incidents of Aboriginal female homicides and unresolved missing Aboriginal females in this review:
  - In 2011, there were 718,500 Aboriginal females in Canada, representing 4.3% of the overall female population.
  - On November 4, 2013, CPIC was reporting 164 missing women in Canada for more than 30 days.
  - Between 1980 and 2012 Canadian police agencies reported a total of 6,551 female homicides.
  - A total of 1,017 were Aboriginal women. The Aboriginal female proportion is 16% of the female homicide victims.
  - These totals indicated that Aboriginal women were over-represented among Canada’s murdered and missing.

- There were similarities across all female homicides. Most homicides were committed by men and most of the perpetrators knew their victims—whether as an acquaintance or a spouse.

- The majority of all female homicides were solved (close to 90%) and there was little difference in solve rates between Aboriginal and non-Aboriginal victims.

QTC
Can anybody explain what the Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women and Girls inquiry is about?
an inquiry launched on September 1, 2016 by the Government of Canada looking into missing and murdered Indigenous Women and Girls; its purpose is to examine and report on systemic causes of all forms of violence against Indigenous Women and Girls in Canada; and institutional policies and practices implemented in response to this violence.

The Inquiry is not affiliated with the RCMP. It is an independent body created under the Inquiries Act. It has the authority to request documents and records, and to compel witnesses to testify. The RCMP has a team at National Headquarters managing the Inquiry's requests and working closely with representatives in each division.

The Inquiry will not re-investigate any cases. The outcome of the Inquiry may result in recommendations on how police conduct investigations.

Summary (5 minutes)

In this session we discussed the importance of understanding Truth and Reconciliation and how it influences policing today. We reviewed our roles and responsibilities as per National Operational Policy on missing person's investigations, and we discussed the Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women and Girls Inquiry.

In the next session you will apply the principles and terminology of the IMIM and the law based on information provided in various scenarios.
Appendix 3.1
Truth and Reconciliation

Principles of Reconciliation

The Truth and Reconciliation Commission of Canada believes that in order for Canada to flourish in the twenty-first century, reconciliation between Aboriginal and non-Aboriginal Canada must be based on the following principles.

1. The United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples is the framework for reconciliation at all levels and across all sectors of Canadian society.

2. First Nations, Inuit, and Métis peoples, as the original peoples of this country and as self-determining peoples, have Treaty, constitutional, and human rights that must be recognized and respected.

3. Reconciliation is a process of healing of relationships that requires public truth sharing, apology, and commemoration that acknowledge and redress past harms.

4. Reconciliation requires constructive action on addressing the ongoing legacies of colonialism that have had destructive impacts on Aboriginal peoples’ education, cultures and languages, health, child welfare, the administration of justice, and economic opportunities and prosperity.

5. Reconciliation must create a more equitable and inclusive society by closing the gaps in social, health, and economic outcomes that exist between Aboriginal and non-Aboriginal Canadians.

6. All Canadians, as Treaty peoples, share responsibility for establishing and maintaining mutually respectful relationships.

7. The perspectives and understandings of Aboriginal Elders and Traditional Knowledge Keepers of the ethics, concepts, and practices of reconciliation are vital to long-term reconciliation.

8. Supporting Aboriginal peoples’ cultural revitalization and integrating Indigenous knowledge systems, oral histories, laws, protocols, and connections to the land into the reconciliation process are essential.

9. Reconciliation requires political will, joint leadership, trust building, accountability, and transparency, as well as a substantial investment of resources.

10. Reconciliation requires sustained public education and dialogue, including youth engagement, about the history and legacy of residential schools, Treaties, and Aboriginal rights, as well as the historical and contemporary contributions of Aboriginal peoples to Canadian society.
Appendix 3.1
Truth and Reconciliation

The United Nations Declaration on Rights of Indigenous Peoples sets out the individual and collective rights of indigenous peoples, as well as their rights to culture, identity, language, employment, health, education and other issues. It also "emphasizes the rights of indigenous peoples to maintain and strengthen their own institutions, cultures and traditions, and to pursue their development in keeping with their own needs and aspirations". It "prohibits discrimination against indigenous peoples", and it "promotes their full and effective participation in all matters that concern them and their right to remain distinct and to pursue their own visions of economic and social development". The goal of the Declaration is to encourage countries to work alongside indigenous peoples to solve global issues, like development, multicultural democracy and decentralization.

The following information is from “Honouring the Truth, Reconciling for the Future, Summary of the Final Report of the Truth and Reconciliation Commission of Canada”

Calls to Action

In order to redress the legacy of residential schools and advance the process of Canadian reconciliation, the Truth and Reconciliation Commission made the 94 calls to action. Several of the 94 there were several calls to action related to justice. Listed below are the calls to action number 25-42, all relating to justice.

Justice

25. We call upon the federal government to establish a written policy that reaffirms the independence of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police to investigate crimes in which the government has its own interest as a potential or real party in civil litigation.

26. We call upon the federal, provincial, and territorial governments to review and amend their respective statutes of limitations to ensure that they conform with the principle that governments and other entities cannot rely on limitation defences to defend legal actions of historical abuse brought by Aboriginal people.

27. We call upon the Federation of Law Societies of Canada to ensure that lawyers receive appropriate cultural competency training, which includes the history and legacy of residential schools, the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples, Treaties and Aboriginal rights, Indigenous law, and Aboriginal–Crown relations. This will require skills-based training in intercultural competency, conflict resolution, human rights, and anti-racism.

28. We call upon law schools in Canada to require all law students to take a course in Aboriginal people and the law, which includes the history and legacy of residential schools, the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples, Treaties and Aboriginal rights, Indigenous law, and Aboriginal–Crown relations. This will require skills-based training in intercultural competency, conflict resolution, human rights, and anti-racism.
Truth and Reconciliation

29. We call upon the parties and, in particular, the federal government, to work collaboratively with plaintiffs not included in the Indian Residential Schools Settlement Agreement to have disputed legal issues determined expeditiously on an agreed set of facts.

30. We call upon federal, provincial, and territorial governments to commit to eliminating the overrepresentation of Aboriginal people in custody over the next decade, and to issue detailed annual reports that monitor and evaluate progress in doing so.

31. We call upon the federal, provincial, and territorial governments to provide sufficient and stable funding to implement and evaluate community sanctions that will provide realistic alternatives to imprisonment for Aboriginal offenders and respond to the underlying causes of offending.

32. We call upon the federal government to amend the Criminal Code to allow trial judges, upon giving reasons, to depart from mandatory minimum sentences and restrictions on the use of conditional sentences.

33. We call upon the federal, provincial, and territorial governments to recognize as a high priority the need to address and prevent Fetal Alcohol Spectrum Disorder (FASD), and to develop, in collaboration with Aboriginal people, FASD preventive programs that can be delivered in a culturally appropriate manner.

34. We call upon the governments of Canada, the provinces, and territories to undertake reforms to the criminal justice system to better address the needs of offenders with Fetal Alcohol Spectrum Disorder (FASD), including:
   i. Providing increased community resources and powers for courts to ensure that FASD is properly diagnosed, and that appropriate community supports are in place for those with FASD.
   ii. Enacting statutory exemptions from mandatory minimum sentences of imprisonment for offenders affected by FASD.
   iii. Providing community, correctional, and parole resources to maximize the ability of people with FASD to live in the community.
   iv. Adopting appropriate evaluation mechanisms to measure the effectiveness of such programs and ensure community safety.

35. We call upon the federal government to eliminate barriers to the creation of additional Aboriginal healing lodges within the federal correctional system.

36. We call upon the federal, provincial, and territorial governments to work with Aboriginal communities to provide culturally relevant services to inmates on issues such as substance abuse, family and domestic violence, and overcoming the experience of having been sexually abused.

37. We call upon the federal government to provide more supports for Aboriginal programming in halfway houses and parole services.
Appendix 3.1
Truth and Reconciliation

38. We call upon the federal, provincial, territorial, and Aboriginal governments to commit to eliminating the overrepresentation of Aboriginal youth in custody over the next decade.

39. We call upon the federal government to develop a national plan to collect and publish data on the criminal victimization of Aboriginal people, including data related to homicide and family violence victimization.

40. We call on all levels of government, in collaboration with Aboriginal people, to create adequately funded and accessible Aboriginal-specific victim programs and services with appropriate evaluation mechanisms.

41. We call upon the federal government, in consultation with Aboriginal organizations, to appoint a public inquiry into the causes of, and remedies for, the disproportionate victimization of Aboriginal women and girls. The inquiry’s mandate would include:
   i. Investigation into missing and murdered Aboriginal women and girls.
   ii. Links to the intergenerational legacy of residential schools.

42. We call upon the federal, provincial, and territorial governments to commit to the recognition and implementation of Aboriginal justice systems in a manner consistent with the Treaty and Aboriginal rights of Aboriginal peoples, the Constitution Act, 1982, and the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples, endorsed by Canada in November 2012.

Introduction (5 minutes)

Missing Person Investigation (90 minutes)

Summary (5 minutes)
Introduction (5 minutes)

Overview

Prior to this session, you have reviewed the Operational Manual on Missing Person Investigations. You’ve participated in the Blanket Exercise and have discussed Truth and Reconciliation.

Session 5 enables you to apply your knowledge on missing person investigations to a scenario in progress.

ES 5.1 Objectives

At the end of this session, you will be able to:

- respond to a call of a missing person by applying CAPRa to the situation;
- apply the National Operational policy on a missing person investigation.

NTF Use Module 13 Scenario Summary (Appendix 1.1) to assist you in answering any questions from the cadets. This session is temporarily delivered using a role playing method. In the future the entire investigation will be online.

Missing Person Investigation (90 minutes)

Method

Ask the following QTC’s to re-cap the start of the missing persons investigation conducted in session 1.

QTC In session 1, what did you identify as the problem?

AR

- Katie Fontaine has not arrived home as per her curfew of 22:00 hrs. It is now 23:30 hrs;
- Her parents are concerned, Katie has been the victim of some online bullying;
- Caylee Miller was the last person with Katie and does not know what happened to her.

ITC

In session 1, you started to complete Form 6473. This contains tombstone data of all people involved and many details about Katie. She has been entered on CPIC. It would be very important to have all of the details possible in order to properly complete your PROS file in the field.

QTC

What additional information did we learn from the interview with Dawn Strong and Simon Fontaine?

AR

- Katie has never been late;
- Her parents have tried calling Katie’s cell and cannot get a hold of her;
- Katie came home after school and jumped on the city bus to meet Caylee at the South Buffalo Mall;
- Her parents spoke to Caylee who stated that she and Katie got separated after the movie;
- Her parents have never called the police before;

QTC Who would you go speak to next?

AR • Caylee Miller as she is the last person who saw and spoke to Katie.

ITC You attend Caylee Miller’s residence at 00:05 hrs.

Method The cadets will now participate in some role playing with the use of a script, Missing Person Investigation Script (Appendix 5.1) (Blue Room). Work through the scripts one interview at a time. Have the cadets take turns role playing the various characters. The role of the Field Coach, Cst. Napier, does not have any dialogue, so she will be excluded in the role plays.

After each role play, ask the corresponding QTC’s and ensure all cadets make notes in their notebook. Cadets will need to update form 6473 and the CAPRA Worksheet (Appendix 1.3) on their own time. Display the ES with the corresponding tombstone data of the person or persons interviewed, once the role play is completed.

😊 Allow for a break at an appropriate time.

Show ES 5.2 in preparation for the role plays.

ES. 5.2 Task

• Take detailed notes in your notebook as you observe each of the following role plays;

• If you are chosen to act, you will be given time after the role play to get caught up on your notes. Speak slowly and allow the observers to take notes;

• Complete form 6473 and CAPRA Worksheet (Appendix 1.3) throughout your investigation;

• Use Checklist for Missing Persons Investigation (Appendix 1.2) to assist you.

Session Outline

Introduction (2 minutes)

Vulnerable Populations– Special Investigational Considerations (85 minutes)

Preparing for PROS Certification Exam (5 minutes)

Assignment (5 minutes)

Summary (3 minutes)
Introduction (2 minutes)

Overview
Frontline police officers conduct missing person investigations on a daily basis. Some of these investigations involve vulnerable people. As a police officer you need to be aware of policy specific to these groups and apply special considerations when investigating these matters.

ES 6.1 CAPRa Objectives
At the end of this session, you will be able to:

- define who the client(s) is(are);
- define, where appropriate, with the client what the issues are, what the problem is;
- acquire the skills, knowledge and information required to address the problem through research or consultation with the client and/or community resources (partnerships);
- analyze the information obtained in consultation with clients and partners;
- decide on a response in consultation with clients and/or partners.

ES 6.2 Objectives
At the end of this session, you will be able to:

- identify special considerations and tactics you can use based on the situation when involving vulnerable populations;
- use Form 6473 and National Policy to consider the risk to the missing person; and
- identify whether they are identified as high risk and/or in a high risk lifestyle.
Vulnerable Populations—Special Investigational Considerations (85 minutes)

Method
Hand out Vulnerable Populations Scenarios (Appendix 6.6) (Blue room). Have the cadets work in their learning teams through all five scenarios by applying CAPRa to each scenario. For each scenario have them identify whether the missing person is considered high risk.

ES. 6.3

Task

Step One
In your learning team, take up to 35 minutes to:

- apply CAPRa to each scenario in Vulnerable Populations Scenarios (Appendix 6.6);
- use Investigative Best Practices for Vulnerable Populations (Appendix 6.5) as a reference;
- when applying the response to each scenario, identify special considerations and tactics you can use based on the situation;
- identify whether the missing person falls under the high risk and/or high risk lifestyle category;
- record your findings on blank paper.

Step Two
- Have a spokesperson from your learning team prepared to present your findings on one of the scenarios which will be assigned to you by your facilitator.

Suggested Break Time
Method

Have each learning team present on one of the five scenarios. Only the special considerations and tactics will be shown in an ES. The CAPRa analysis will be presented as an AR for your reference.

AR

Preparing for PROS Certification Exam

(5 minutes)

Method
Advise the cadets that they will be completing an on-line PROS Certification Exam in Module 15 Session 4. Go over the information on ES 6.9 and 6.10 with them.

NTF
Note that all members of the troop will complete the Certification Exam regardless of which division they are being posted to. Even though E Division is not a PROS division, there is a definite advantage to all cadets certifying on PROS. Cadets are in the best position to pass the Certification Exam at this time. In the event an E Division-posted cadet transfers to a PROS division at some point in the future, they will have completed the training and certification process. This will provide them with easier access to PROS in their new division.

ES 6.9

PROS Certification Exam

- Written during Module 15 Session 4.
- Will be written by all cadets, regardless of which Division you are posted to.
- Was designed by National PROS training branch.
- Will be written online.
- Is a benchmark and must be passed before you leave Depot.
- Can be rewritten once per day.
ES 6.10 Preparing for the PROS End-User Exam

- On your own time:
  - Review your PROS Manual (Module 1 Appendix 7.2);
  - Rewrite the PROS quizzes in preparation for the Certification Exam;
  - Complete PROS Quiz #3 (online in Agora).
- In-class review:
  - Will be done during Module 15 Session 4 (right before exam).

Assignment (5 minutes)

ES 6.11 Assignment

By Module 15 Session 1:

- Use Introduction to the PROS Case File (Appendix 6.1) and PROS Court Documents (Appendix 6.2) to construct a PROS case file for your Module 10 (impaired) occurrence

- Note: This assignment will teach you how to use the PROS Case File. This work will not be reviewed by the facilitators. However, knowledge of these processes is necessary for the End-User exam.

By Module 15 Session 7:

- Read Other Federal Statutes Resource Material (Appendix 6.3)
- Individually complete Federal Statutes Review (Appendix 6.4)
- Watch Terrorism: A New Dimension in Front Line Policing: Introduction to Terrorism and Who Am I Going to Call? (found on Agora under APS Module 13)
The first part of this assignment is an introduction to the court package. It is used in different ways in different detachments. This report will not be reviewed but is meant to familiarize the cadets with another function of PROS.

Preparation for Final Detachment

Ensure that Buffalo Detachment prepares and sets up a schedule for your troop's Final Detachment practice. Consult your troop schedule for exact dates. Your responsibilities are addressed in the Final Detachment Practice session.

Summary (3 minutes)

In this session, you applied CAPRa to various scenarios involving missing persons from vulnerable populations.

In the next session you will assess your performance in the module scenario and review form 6473.
Best Practices for Vulnerable Populations
Appendix 6.5

The most critical investigative practice; the one that applies to all missing persons complaints, is that they must be investigated promptly and thoroughly. Time is of the essence!

Your investigative approach and the possible avenues available to you are the same whether you are investigating a missing persons case involving an adult, a child, a repeat runaway etc. However, there are some nuances and additional considerations to apply to cases of missing persons who belong to a vulnerable population.

Children

The initial hours of a child's disappearance are considered critical for their survival, especially in extreme weather conditions. This is a reason to consider activating an AMBER Alert.

According to a study by the Canadian Centre for Child Protection, of the victims under the age of 16 who were abducted and then murdered:

- 70% were murdered within three hours of the abduction;
- 84% were female;
- the victims' average age was 11.6 years old;
- 55% of the offenders had a previous criminal record;
- the motivation for abducting the child was determined to be sexual in 77% of the instances that involved a convicted offender; and;
- 41% of the abductions occurred in June, July or August and 45% occurred on a Friday or Saturday.

Best Practices for Missing Children Investigations

- Treat each case as critical. Children, especially young ones, may have an impaired sense of danger and face immediate risk
- Search the house in case they are hiding on purpose
- Search water first. Dispatch personnel to nearby bodies of water (pools, rivers, ponds etc) immediately
- Ask caregivers about other dangers that the child may be attracted to: busy roads, highways, construction sites, etc. and immediately dispatch personnel to secure those areas
Best Practices for Vulnerable Populations
Appendix 6.5

- Ask about child’s likes that may assist in search efforts – will they be drawn to certain music, favorite characters, fire trucks etc?
- Ask about the child’s dislikes and fears or sensory issues that may hinder search efforts (e.g. large dogs, sirens, aircraft, bright lights, shouting)
- Remember that kids may not even realize that they are being abducted, especially if the abductor is known to them
- Gather descriptors that are clear and thorough enough to make for an effective AMBER Alert
- Consider factors such as:
  - Who has legal custody of the child?
  - Is s/he the subject of a custody battle? Do not assume that this is a civil matter only; continue to investigate the criminal aspect of the case.
  - Have family dynamics deteriorated in the recent past?
  - The National Sex Offenders Registry (NSOR) may be able to produce a list of suspects who are convicted sex offenders/child predators in the area. Contact the NSOR Provincial Centre of jurisdiction for further information.

AMBER Alert

AMBER Alert is a voluntary partnership between law enforcement agencies and broadcasters to activate an urgent bulletin in the most serious child abduction cases.

Statistics show that time is of the essence when it comes to locating a child who has been abducted.

Canada also adopted this program. It is provincially-owned; each Province/Division has AMBER Alert Activation Criteria that must be met. In general, criteria for activation include:

- The missing person is under the age of 18 or a vulnerable adult (e.g. the elderly or an adult with a proven mental or physical disability);
- The investigation has confirmed either abduction by a stranger or a parent where circumstances lead police to believe that an abducted person is in danger of serious bodily harm or death;
Best Practices for Vulnerable Populations
Appendix 6.5

- Sufficient information exists to share with the public that could assist in locating the abducted person and/or apprehension of the suspect; and
- The alert can be issued in a time frame that would provide reasonable expectation that the child could be returned or the abductor could be apprehended prior to fleeing.

In circumstances where you believe an AMBER Alert is required, contact your divisional AMBER Alert coordinator for assistance. This person will also assist in the de-activation of the AMBER Alert.

Reasons for de-activation include the recovery of the child, evidence that the child is no longer in danger or you have reached the prescribed time dictated by the provincial program.

Repeat Runaways

According to CPIC statistics, approximately 75% of missing children/youth reports are runaways.

Despite these high numbers, you are strongly cautioned against complacency with resources and personnel dealing with repeat runaway complaints. Take the complaint seriously every time!

Be aware of heightened levels of frustration that you may experience for being called to investigate the same missing person numerous times. Try not to let it affect your judgement.

Best Practices for Repeat and Chronic/Habitual Runaways

- Document the number of times the person has been reported missing and for how long
- How soon does the person typically return and by what means? (i.e. return on their own, or found by police)
- Are there patterns associated with where the person is usually located or is known to frequent?
- Who does the person associate with?
Best Practices for Vulnerable Populations
Appendix 6.5

- Is there anything unusual in this investigation that places the person at higher risk? Is the urgency of this incident different than previous incidents?
- Document why the person is frequently leaving their residence but not returning, i.e. wants to be with friends, doesn’t like the home setting etc.
- Finally, one best practice that seems to generate positive results is conducting a non-threatening interview when the missing child/youth is located. By trying to, empathetically, identify and address the root cause of the runaway’s disappearances, you can help to diminish the odds of reoccurrences.

The Elderly and Dementia/Alzheimer’s Patients

Alzheimer’s patients who go missing have a 50% chance of being injured or dying from exposure, hypothermia, dehydration or drowning if they are not found within the first 12 hours.

The elderly, particularly those living with dementia, are one of the groups in our community most at risk of going missing. As people age, mental and physical health issues can force them to become more isolated from family and friends, which can put them at a greater risk of becoming a missing person.

Symptoms that may cause someone to go missing include forgetting well-known people or places, an inability to process questions or instructions, and emotional unpredictability.

Wandering is quite common among people living with dementia.

People suffering from Alzheimer’s disease who wander, will often walk in a straight line until they become stuck? Therefore it’s helpful to know through which door the person exited.

Best Practices for The Elderly and Dementia / Alzheimer’s Patients

- Respond without delay
- Ask the caregiver if the missing person is wearing a tracking device
- Once you have established that the missing person is missing due to Alzheimer’s disease or Dementia, the focus of the investigation should turn to search and rescue
Best Practices for Vulnerable Populations
Appendix 6.5

- 94% of dementia/Alzheimer’s patients who wander are found within 1.5 miles of where they disappeared.

- When creating your victim’s profile, be aware that the elderly are sometimes victims of abuse. If you identify abuse, document it on form 6473 under ‘Missing Person Risk’ by selecting “Elderly Abuse”.

People Suffering from Mental Illness

Autism, bipolar disorder, schizophrenia, suicidal tendencies, depression, PTSD are only a few examples of mental health problems that people may be battling. It is important to educate yourself.

Best Practices for Persons Suffering from Mental Illness

- Treat each case as high priority. Persons suffering from mental illness may have an impaired sense of danger and face immediate risk.

- If appropriate to the situation, dispatch personnel to nearby bodies of water (pools, rivers, ponds etc).

- Interview and listen to caregivers. They have first-hand knowledge of the missing person’s history of behaviours that may indicate his/her whereabouts.

  - Ask about dangers that the missing person may be attracted to: busy roads, highways, construction sites, etc. and immediately dispatch Member to secure those areas.

  - Ask about factors that may assist in search/rescue efforts – will they be drawn to certain music, favourite TV characters, fire trucks etc?

  - Ask about the person’s dislikes and fears or sensory issues that may hinder search efforts (e.g. dogs, sirens, aircraft, bright lights, shouting).

- Determine if the person wears a tracking device. If so, immediately initiate tracking measures.

- Ask if the person will respond to his/her name when called. If not, determine what the person will respond to and ensure search groups are notified.

- Once the missing person is found, maintain a calm and relaxed environment. Speak in a normal tone of voice using simple phrases.
Best Practices for Vulnerable Populations
Appendix 6.5

- Bring caregiver to the recovery site as quickly as possible.
- Give consideration to officer safety, and if possible avoid the use of restraints.

High Risk Lifestyle

Often, people who lead a high-risk lifestyle are socially disconnected and they sometimes have extensive histories of abuse and trauma. This harsh reality is conducive to a lack of trust towards those around them, including the police. People who lead a high-risk lifestyle may have no choice but to live in the shadows and “stay invisible” if they want to stay safe. They face struggles that often make it very difficult for police to keep track of them.

People Suffering from Addiction

People suffering from addiction will often withdraw from social contact due to shame. In many cases, the addict may consume their illicit substance alone, and even in secret. Some of their usual social activities are given up because of their addiction and they often lie to those close to them about their whereabouts to enable them to indulge in their addiction undisturbed.

Investigative Considerations for People Suffering from Addiction

- Consider that it is common for addicts to resort to other forms of crimes in order to maintain their addiction. It is a good idea to try to identify the people they normally associate with, such as drug dealers.
  - Someone with an addiction will often take risks to make sure s/he can obtain his/her substance, such as stealing or trading sex for money/drugs.
- People who suffer from addiction frequently have a history of problems with the police, and may be involved in legal proceedings, experiencing financial difficulties etc. These may turn into barriers for finding this person as s/he will avoid contact with police for fear that this could result in their being placed into custody or being the subject of criminal charges.
- Information gathered from form 6473, especially the section on “Lifestyle Risk Factors”, may guide you towards the best locations to search for the missing
Best Practices for Vulnerable Populations
Appendix 6.5

person (e.g. if the person suffers from alcoholism and attends Alcoholics Anonymous meetings, who is their sponsor?).

- Addicts often have “stashes” of their substance hidden away in unlikely places. Keep in mind that you may need to search these unlikely places.

Sexual Exploitation

Those who are sexually exploited are in a particularly vulnerable situation. Sexual exploitation can be a result of human trafficking activity and/or be compounded by the need to fund a life of addiction.

Investigative Considerations for Victims of Sexual Exploitation

- Victims of sexual exploitation are hardly ever reported; either because they might have gone missing willingly or because their client or pimp might have been responsible for their disappearance. In either circumstance, if the family or close friends are not aware that their loved one is missing, the likelihood of a missing person report being made is very slim.

- For victims of human trafficking, consider that:
  - they may be unaware of their location;
  - they may be intimidated or afraid of leaving their “job”;
  - there may be signs of physical abuse if they have a pimp or have been sexually exploited;
  - they usually have “branding” descriptive markers (that show ownership by their trafficker);
  - there may be language barriers if they were trafficked from a foreign country and cannot speak English or French; and
  - out of fear for their families or loved ones’ well-being, they may not cooperate with law enforcement.
Vulnerable Populations Scenarios
Appendix 6.6

Scenario 1
You are on patrol when you receive a call of a missing person from telecoms. David has called to report that his father Henry, is missing from his residence. Henry is described as an eighty year old male, 5'5" and around 120 lbs with short white hair. David is very concerned because his father suffers from dementia and has some other health concerns. Henry was last seen an hour ago sitting on the patio in the back yard.

You attend David's residence, which is located in a new subdivision of a large city. This subdivision backs onto a large forested area. The home is a block from the forested area.

You learn that Henry has been living with his son, daughter-in-law and one teenage granddaughter for the past month. It became necessary due to health concerns for David to remove his father from his lifelong home. This is the first time that David has not been able to locate Henry. David is very concerned because of his father's dementia and diabetes. All computer checks on David and Henry are 10-10.

Scenario 2
You are on foot patrol in an area of a large urban centre that is known to be frequented by sex trade workers. During your patrol, you are approached by one of the workers known to you as London. London is concerned because he has not seen Angel this evening. He and Angel were supposed to meet up and he cannot get a hold of her by phone. Angel has been struggling with an addiction to pain killers. London is worried because of all the fentanyl overdoses occurring in the community. Computer checks on Angel reveal a history of drug possession. Angel has been a sex trade worker in this community for three years.

Scenario 3
You are on patrol when you receive a call on your personal cell phone. The call is from your good friend Eric. Eric is upset and very concerned for the well-being of his husband, Jacob. Jacob has been diagnosed with PTSD and has had thoughts of suicide in the past. Eric informs you that he has just returned home after being away for work the past two days. Jacob is not at home and he has not been able to contact Jacob all day. Jacob's phone, wallet and vehicle are still at home. Eric states that he tried to call Jacob at work and discovered that Jacob had called in sick today. Eric is requesting that you make a patrol but keep the matter to yourself. Jacob is a constable at your detachment.
Vulnerable Populations Scenarios
Appendix 6.6

Scenario 4

You are on patrol at 2300hrs when you receive a call of a missing person from telecoms. A local group home is calling to report that one of their residents has not returned and is breaching her curfew.

You attend the group home and speak with Kelly the staff member on duty. Kelly reports to you that Mackenzie Rolls who is 16 years old has gone AWOL again from the home, breaching her curfew. This is the fourth night in a row this week. Computer checks reveal that Mackenzie is on Probation for assault with the following conditions: a curfew from 2200-0600 daily, no contact with Cory Rundel, not to possess or consume alcohol and keep the peace and be of good behavior. The previous four nights Mackenzie has returned on her own around 0200hrs. Mackenzie has a history of partying and drug use. PROS shows that Mackenzie had been previously associated with a local drug dealer, Lee.

Scenario 5

You are on patrol when you receive a call of a missing person from telecoms. Brad has called 911 stating he has lost his little sister. Few details are available at this time.

You meet with Brad who is at his home. Brad is 14 years old and has been left at home to look after his little sister Whitney while his parents are out of town for the afternoon. Whitney is 4 years old and described as being tiny for her age. She has long black hair and was wearing a pink dress. Brad is not able to say when he last saw Whitney but she was in the downstairs family rec room playing after lunch. The residence is located in a cottage community. All computer checks are 10-10.

Overview

In the previous session you had the opportunity to apply CAPRA to several missing person scenarios involving a variety of vulnerable populations.

Session 7 allows you to review your completed 6473 and assess how well you performed your missing person investigation. You will have an opportunity to explore steps necessary to address the issue of bullying in the high school.

ES 7.1 CAPRA

You will be able to:

- assess, in partnership with clients how well the situation was handled, including:
  - how well the problem or issues were defined;
  - how well the necessary information was acquired and analysed;
  - how well the response, service or solution worked; and
  - whether there are better ways to handle similar situations or creative ways to prevent them from recurring.

ES 7.2 Objectives

At the end of this session, you will be able to:

- review your completed 6473;
- assess how well you performed your missing persons investigation;
- identify steps necessary to address the ongoing bullying issues at school; and
- identify common errors detected in the completion of the Module 12 CDSA occurrence.
Review of the 6473 (10 minutes)

Method
Have the cadets pass their completed 6473 to another cadet to correct. Handout Completed 6473 (Appendix 7.1) (Sequence Critical) once corrected have the 6473 returned to the cadet for review. Discuss and clarify as needed.

Assessment (15 minutes)

QTC
How would you assess your performance?

AR
- I successfully located Katie in a timely and professional manner fashion following Operational policy
- I was sensitive to the needs of Katie’s family
- I still need to address the ongoing issue of bullying at school

QTC
What follow-up steps are you going to take to address the issue of bullying at school?

AR
- meet with the principal to discuss the bullying occurring at school and work with her on strategies to resolve these issues
- have the school liaison officer assist and offer any information he/she may have
- meet with Eve and her mom to discuss the allegations of bullying Katie
- work with school liaison to present something on bullying to the school
- develop a strategy to bring all parties together and discuss the situation in order to get buy in and resolve this.
Method
Read the following ITC, show ES. 7.3 then ask the QTC.

ITC
The missing person investigation has ended successfully, however your clients still require some assistance. We identified through CAPra that part of the problem had to do with online bullying (also known as cyberbullying).

The missing person file would come a conclusion and a new file would be required to deal with the cyberbullying problem. Operational Manual 2.13 specifies a definition of cyberbullying as well as offences which may be linked to cyberbullying, and roles and responsibilities when investigating these files.

ES. 7.3

Operational Manual 2.13.1.2
Cyberbullying may be described as telecommunication that is sent with the intent to injure, to alarm, to annoy, to harass a person or persons, or to make indecent communication.

Cyberbullying occurs by electronic means through, but not limited to: social networking sites, websites, email, text messages, and instant messaging.

ES. 7.4

Operational Manual 2.13.2
Cyberbullying in itself is not a designated criminal offence. Actions that constitute cyberbullying that can relate to criminal offences may include:

- an intimate image that is a visual recording of a person made by any means, including a photographic, film, or video recording (Sec 162.1 C.C.)
- uttering threats (Sec 264.1 C.C.);
- false information, indecent/harassing communications (Sec 372 C.C.);
- criminal harassment (Sec 264 C.C.);
- intimidation (Sec 423(1) C.C.);
- mischief in relation to computer data (Sec 430.1.1 C.C.);
- unauthorized use of computer (Sec 342.1 C.C.);
- identity fraud (Sec 403 C.C.);
- extortion (Sec 346 C.C.);
counselling suicide (Sec 241 C.C.); defamatory libel (Sec 298 to 301 C.C.); incitement of hatred (Sec 319 C.C.); child pornography offences (Sec 163.1 C.C.); or luring children (Sec 172.1 C.C.).

QTC With the information received so far, which sections of the Criminal Code may apply to this scenario?
AR

uttering threats (Sec 264.1 C.C.);
assault (Sec 266 C.C.)
false information, indecent/harassing communications (Sec 372 C.C.);
Mischief Under $5000 (Sec 430(4) C.C.)
Publishing Defamatory Libel Known to be False (Sec 300 C.C.)
Publishing Defamatory Libel (Sec 301 C.C.)

RCMP Service Standards and Strategic Priorities (5 minutes)

QTC What Service Standards apply to this situation?
AR

Service Standards #s 1, 2, 3, 8, 9, 10, 11, 13 and 14

QTC Which of the RCMP's strategic priorities have been addressed in this module?
AR

Aboriginal communities

Youth

Method Read the following ITC to the class and then show ES. 7.3.
The RCMP has now begun the next phase in their global response to the challenge of missing and murdered Aboriginal women. The RCMP have developed strategic goals in an effort to support an effective, comprehensive and coordinated response to missing person investigations in RCMP jurisdictions.

ES 7.5 The Four Pillars
- Demonstrating Accountability: Investigation/Intelligence
- Partnerships: Consultation and Integrated Service Delivery
- Supporting Families: Assistance and Communication
- Increasing Awareness: Prevention and Communication

Review of Module 12 Occurrence (15 minutes)

Method
Review the common errors made by cadets in completing their drug occurrence from Module 12. Answer any questions the cadets may have in relation to feedback received from the other facilitators.

Summary (2 minutes)

In this session, you reviewed your completed 6473. You assessed your missing person investigation and explored steps you could take to address the ongoing issue of bullying at school.

The next module will introduce you to a call for service involving a client suffering from a mental health crisis.
