Indigenous learning providers

Explore a post-secondary education rooted in Indigenous languages, worldviews and cultures in Alberta.

Overview

First Nations colleges and Indigenous learning providers offer adult learning opportunities in an Indigenous context.

Students benefit from wraparound services, including cultural supports that are integral to both their academic achievement and their personal wellbeing.

First Nations colleges

First Nations colleges deliver:

- foundational learning
- preparatory programs
- training programs
- credentialed programs, including Indigenous language and cultural knowledge

Some programs are offered in partnership with other Alberta publicly-funded post-secondary institutions. These colleges develop and approve mandates to guide their operations.
