Statement – Public 1
“Sister 1”

St. John's, Newfoundland.

--- Upon commencing on Thursday, October 18, 2018 at 6:56 p.m.

KERRIE REAY: Ok then, [Sister 1], for the record this is Kerrie Reay, statement taker for the National Inquiry into Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women and Girls. And today is October the 18th of 2018 and we are at St. John’s, Newfoundland at the Sheraton Hotel. Today with me is [Sister 1]. And along today for support in the room is [Sister 1]’s sister, [Sister 2]. For the record, [Sister 1] would like to be referred to as [abbreviated form of Sister 1’s name]. And [Sister 1] is here today to speak of her survivorship. And [Sister 1] has decided today to only have audio and is not going to have the video recording. [Sister 1], the space is yours, the time is yours; when you’re ready to start. Some people like to start with where they’re from and growing up and others want to start right with the trauma and so it’s your time here, ok? When you’re ready.

[SISTER 1]: I don’t know how to start off –

KERRIE REAY: You can talk about your family and where you’re from and -- [SISTER 1]: (Crying) I don’t know how to start it.

KERRIE REAY: You said you were born on [birthdate] 1992 and where were you born, [Sister 1]?

[SISTER 1]: Born in [Newfoundland-and-Labrador Community 1].

KERRIE REAY: [Poses a factual question about the community]?

[SISTER 1]: Yup.

KERRIE REAY: And your mom and your dad, and your family?

[SISTER 1]: My mom and dad is from [Newfoundland-and-Labrador Community 2].

KERRIE REAY: [Newfoundland-and-Labrador Community 2], ok.

[SISTER 1]: (Inaudible reply).

KERRIE REAY: I know you have a sister, [Sister 2], here.

[SISTER 1]: (Crying). I don’t know if I can do it.

KERRIE REAY: I’m going to suggest that we stop the tape so that you can take a deep breath and settle down and maybe walk around the room. It’s 6:59. That’s ok, you just take your time.

(Short break)

KERRIE REAY: It’s now six – 7:02.

[SISTER 1]: We went to those in the afternoon. We went up to get beer and liquor. When we got home we were drinking.

KERRIE REAY: Who was there? Who was with you?

[SISTER 1]: Me, [Man 1], and [Woman 2].

KERRIE REAY: Okay. You were having a few drinks?

[SISTER 1]: I had a few beer and I started drinking liquor. And I blacked out. I woke up in the hospital. And I asked my mom -- my mom was sleeping there. And I woke her up and I asked her how come I'm in there. She said that I got picked up by the ambulance. I was losing a lot of blood. One of the RCMP officers, they said -- she said it took a while for her to wake me up. I was laying my own pool of blood. The bed was covered in bed and I was on the floor in my own pool of blood.

The RCMP officer told me a few times that I'm lucky to be alive. I was in the -- in the hospital in [Newfoundland-and-Labrador Community 1] for two days and they said I had to get Medevacked to here in St. John's. I had, like, two surgeries -- two surgeries I think. I've been here in a hospital in a private room for two weeks. They sent me back to home to [Newfoundland-and-Labrador Community 1].

KERRIE REAY: When you went back to [Newfoundland-and-Labrador Community 1], did you go back into the -- the hospital?

[SISTER 1]: I had to get another surgery in another three months time. After my surgery, I stayed in the hospital for, like, two days. And then everything was good after that.

KERRIE REAY: And when did this happen?

[SISTER 1]: [Specific date] is when I woke up in the hospital, 2017.

KERRIE REAY: So it's -- it's been [number redacted] long months?

[SISTER 1]: Yeah.

KERRIE REAY: And how are you doing now physically? Are you healed from your -- your -- from what happened?

[SISTER 1]: I got quite a big scar on my belly from surgery. I don't know, I just can't get the thought out of my head of just being alive today.

KERRIE REAY: Yeah.

[SISTER 1]: I'm so happy I survived it.

KERRIE REAY: Yes. Can you share with the Commissioners what happened? Do you know what happened?

[SISTER 1]: They are thinking that he stuck a beer bottle ---

KERRIE REAY: Broken beer bottle?

[SISTER 1]: I don't think it was open because they couldn't find any broken bottles in the house.
But I had to get a surgery and get stitches done up there for the -- for it to stop bleeding.

KERRIE REAY: On the inside?

[SISTER 1]: That's what they think is it's from a beer bottle.

KERRIE REAY: And this was the fellow that was with you?

[SISTER 1]: Yeah. They told me he's only in the correctional centre for another three years.

KERRIE REAY: So it went to trial?

[SISTER 1]: He got three years and then he's out.

KERRIE REAY: Did he plead guilty or did he plead not guilty?

[SISTER 1]: I think he plead guilty.

KERRIE REAY: Okay. And so he -- you said he'll be out in three years?

[SISTER 1]: Yeah.

KERRIE REAY: So he didn't get very much time then.

[SISTER 1]: I was hoping it'd be longer than three years. It was hard to go through but just glad I made it through.

KERRIE REAY: Yes. Yes, I'm glad you made it through too. Your family, your friends. So that's pretty -- that's -- that's pretty significant. You're -- you're young.

[SISTER 1]: Yeah.

KERRIE REAY: So what would you like to share with the Commission? What your thoughts are about the sentence he received?

[SISTER 1]: I don't like that he only got three years. Like, it just hard, like -- if he goes back to [Community 3] (phonetic) I was down there quite a bit. And if I sees him, I'm probably going to have a bad anxiety attack.

KERRIE REAY: So you're already worrying about him getting out.

[SISTER 1]: Yeah.

KERRIE REAY: And when the matter was in court, was there anybody from Victim Services that came and spoke to you, or ---

[SISTER 1]: I was ---

KERRIE REAY: --- supported you?

[SISTER 1]: I was talking to them before I went and made a statement in court.

KERRIE REAY: Okay.

[SISTER 1]: It's in -- they're in the same building as court and ---
KERRIE REAY: Okay.

[SISTER 1]: --- I went to talk to them before court was going on.

KERRIE REAY: Right. Were they helpful?

[SISTER 1]: I don't remember what they were telling me but ---

KERRIE REAY: A little overwhelming with everything that was happening?

[SISTER 1]: Yeah.

KERRIE REAY: And how about the police? How were they with you? Were they helpful?

[SISTER 1]: They just told me what -- what the scene was like when they arrived and they said I'm lucky to be alive.

KERRIE REAY: And when they talked to you, [Sister 1], was there anybody else in the room with you to be supportive hearing that information? Must have been pretty traumatic for you to hear that.

[SISTER 1]: They told me over the phone first but I seen them, like, last -- last week some time. They said it was a horrific scene and it wasn't easy to watch.

KERRIE REAY: So they talked to you about your statement over the telephone?

[SISTER 1]: Or, I called them before I came here. And I was asking them some questions about what happened that night. They said it was a horrific scene.

KERRIE REAY: When they -- when they came to the hospital -- when you -- when you were first talking, you said about the lady constable, when she came to see you in the hospital.

[SISTER 1]: Or, I don't think it was her who came to the hospital.

KERRIE REAY: Okay.

[SISTER 1]: But I was talking to her last week. Or, she's the one that came over that night before the ambulance did.

KERRIE REAY: Okay. Do you have much memory of your time in the hospital or here in St. John's?

[SISTER 1]: I was just mostly in bed and it was hard to get out of bed.

KERRIE REAY: M'hmm. Yeah.

[SISTER 1]: And I went to the cafeteria, I had to be in a wheelchair.

KERRIE REAY: And coming from [Newfoundland-and-Labrador Community 1], it's quite a ways to come. Were you able to have family here?

[SISTER 1]: My mom stayed with me the two weeks I was here.

KERRIE REAY: Okay. Did -- did she stay in the hospital room with you? Or did she ---

[SISTER 1]: Yeah.

KERRIE REAY: Okay. So she didn't have to get a hotel.

[SISTER 1]: No.

KERRIE REAY: Well, that's good.

[SISTER 1]: We were in a private room.

KERRIE REAY: Okay. Well, that's good.

That's good. Thinking about when you were coming here and you were doing lots of thinking, is there something you really wanted the Commissioners to know about what happened? Anything that -- if you were angry about anything? Was there anything that you really wanted them to know?

[SISTER 1]: Just the story I just told.

KERRIE REAY: And that the man that did it -- the guy that did it to you only received three years?

[SISTER 1]: He's been in there since

[month] since it happened.

KERRIE REAY: Okay.

[SISTER 1]: And he only has another three years to go.

KERRIE REAY: And so he's just really started and you're worried already about him being released with such a short time.

[SISTER 1]: I spend most of my town in the town where he lives. That's why I'm worried.

KERRIE REAY: And have you had any support? Like, have you had any support to help deal with the trauma that you've -- that you've had to deal with? Any support? Any counselling? You've been on your own?

[SISTER 1]: Yeah.

KERRIE REAY: Victim Services didn't have anything after the court for you?

[SISTER 1]: No.

KERRIE REAY: Did they talk to you about any programs that were available for you?

[SISTER 1]: No.

KERRIE REAY: I sense you're feeling alone.

[SISTER 1]: Sometimes it feels like that, yeah.

KERRIE REAY: And when you're feeling like that, what sort of things do you do for yourself?

[SISTER 1]: Nothing. I just drink.

KERRIE REAY: Does that happen very often?

[SISTER 1]: I drink probably like every day.

KERRIE REAY: You're so young to have such a burden. Do you have hope?

[SISTER 1]: Not really.
KERRIE REAY: You know, that's something that Michelle can help you with. The Inquiry can help you get what you need. This is -- this is -- this type of trauma is -- it's horrific. And it's hard to -- it's hard for -- for anyone to deal with trauma. But this is -- this is really -- this is really horrific. And we certainly don't want you to be trying to deal with it on your own. It's important to have support to help you through the day. Would that be helpful, do you think, if you had some support?

[SISTER 1]: I think I'll manage.

KERRIE REAY: Are you concerned that [Newfoundland-and-Labrador Community 1] too small?

[SISTER 1]: No.

KERRIE REAY: Is there anything else you'd like to share with the Commissioners, with the Inquiry? I can -- I can see it's really difficult for you. Okay. Would you like us to stop?

[SISTER 1]: Yeah.

KERRIE REAY: Okay. 7:20. I'm just going to turn this off for a minute and then we can talk again about what you'd like to do next. And then we'll come back and do the consent.

Okay. It is 7:22 and we're back on the record with [Sister 1]. And, [Sister 1], we were -- we talked at the beginning of the statement about whether or not you would like your matter to be public or to be private.

[SISTER 1]: M'hmm.

KERRIE REAY: And from -- from what you've shared today -- and I know it's been so hard for you to share. But it is -- it is the beginning of a journey for you. A healing journey. And the person that did this to you has gone to jail.

[SISTER 1]: Yeah.

KERRIE REAY: And how are you feeling about whether you would like your statement to be public or private?

[SISTER 1]: Public.

KERRIE REAY: Public. Okay. So you know that it'll be posted on the -- the website -- your transcript that you've sent today.

[SISTER 1]: Yeah.

KERRIE REAY: Okay. Any last words?

[SISTER 1]: No.

KERRIE REAY: Okay. Well, [Sister 1], you did really well. Incredibly well for -- for sharing your truth today. Okay. I'll turn it off at 7:23.

--- Upon adjourning at 7:23.
