WELCOME

The Ontario Provincial Police is proud to present our first Anti-Human Trafficking Conference. Our goal is to bring together law enforcement, victim services, victim supports and advocates, the legal community and other stakeholders to create a united front to end Human Trafficking.

The complex issues that contribute to Human Trafficking make it a crime that is difficult to track, prosecute and most importantly, prevent. It is only by working together, collaboratively, as partners in the fight against those who would treat people as products, that we will be able to effect change.

That change is not just for victims of Human Trafficking, it is also for the people that support victims and hold offenders accountable. A Victim Centered approach provides immediate and ongoing support to victims, by providing wrap around care that leads to people becoming survivors of this horrific crime.

By attending this conference, you have shown your commitment to ending Human Trafficking and a commitment to victims throughout Ontario.

Thank you to everyone for all of your hard work, effort and dedication. Please enjoy the conference and some valuable relationship building.
